EXIT AND ENTRY TO THE PORT

To allow free navigation for ferries/hydrofoils bound for and coming from the Pontine Islands, for the purposes of navigation safety, the Maritime Authority granted the Organizing Authority a water channel as represented below, of a width of approximately 50 meters and a length almost equivalent to the breakwater (as shown below on the map) delimited by a series of little buoy of orange colour connected to each other with a floating rope (1).

All competitors and support vessels shall stay within this safety range when exiting and returning back to the port.

When a flag F (Foxtrot) is displayed on the flag pole on the ramp (2) or on a rib positioned at the entrance to the port, all competitors and support vessels shall wait for the transit (entry/exit) of ferries/hydrofoils into/from the port area.

The removing of the flag F will allow navigation to resume.
